Hand held devices

"dosimetry studies indicate that these hand-held devices present no greater radiation risk than standard dental radiographic units to the patient or the operator. No additional radiation protection precautions are needed when the device is used according to the manufacturer's instructions."

CARE (Customizable Assessment and Risk Evaluator) tool

Based on your evaluation and the clinical data you provide, the CARE tool will generate an assessment and make recommendations for you to consider — showing your patient's low, moderate, high or extreme risk factors. You'll then be given instructions that will help you manage your patient's ongoing oral health.
